Reading in the Barre Times of the death of "Mike," the Barre fireman's chief pet for several months, Joseph Levery of Springfield, formerly a special policeman of Barre and a friend of the firemen sought to lighten the fireman's loss by sending them a fine Dalmatian coach pup. The animal has been received at the station and now has his regular position with the squad at the fire calls. He has since been christened "Mike" and gives evidence of filling quite well the place of the deceased bull pup.

To-night at 8 o'clock at Hotel Barre all men eligible for membership in the Barre post of Veterans of Foreign Wars are asked to meet for the purpose of forming the post, electing officers and installing the same. The Barre baseball team is scheduled for a game with the Montpelier K. of C. team at Intercity park Saturday afternoon at 3:15. Immediately after the arrival of the cars the game will be started. Manager Johnston during the past few days has been negotiating to strengthen his team with America, Polli, the young Goddard star twirler, who is now with Dan Sullivan, the Dean academy coach, at the Saranac lake summer resort, New York. Polli prefers to play in Barre though offers from Saranac and Pittsburg, Mass., are much greater than those from Barre. However, the management is consistent in its efforts to augment the pitching staff with this young man. James Greig, the star centerfielder for Spaulding in 1920 and who figured in a few games with the University of Vermont this season, has returned from Port Kent, N. Y., after a brief visit and will be included in Saturday's lineup. At that time Steve Slagden, who held the Springfield team to three hits last Saturday, will oppose young McDonald, the Montpelier pitcher who has defeated teams in Richmond, Granby and Sherbrooke, P. Q., this summer. There is also a possibility of seeing Eddy Sullivan, left fielder at Goddard and with St. Johnsbury A. C. last year and also holder on the St. Michael's college nine this year, in a Barre uniform Saturday.

CLASSICS NECESSARY TO SCHOOL SYSTEM

Vice-President Coolidge Says Science, Commerce and Social Culture Could Not Advance Without Them.

Philadelphia, July 7.—Science, commerce and social culture could not progress if our educational system dropped the classics of ancient civilization from its curriculum, Vice-President Calvin Coolidge to-day told the American Classical league, in session at the University of Pennsylvania.

Education is primarily a means of establishing ideals, the vice-president said, its first duty being the formation of character which is the result of heredity and training. It is the ancient civilizations, he declared, that inspire the ideals toward which all men and nations are striving to-day.

"The most pressing requirement of the present hour," the speaker asserted, "is not how we are to solve our economic problems, but, where are we to find the sustaining influences for the realities of life? How are we to justify the existing form of government in our republic? On what can we rely for a continuation of that service of sacrifice which has made modern civilization possible?"

"The progress of the present era gives no new answers to these problems. There are no examples of heroism which out rival Leonidas at Thermopylae, or Horatius at the bridge. The literature of Greece and Rome is, from beginning to end, an inspiring plea for patriotism."

INDIGNATION RUNS HIGH

Over Alleged Horsewhipping of 10-Year-Old Girl.

Brattleboro, July 7.—Indignation ran high here yesterday when Elbert Lynde, a farmer living in Guilford, was arrested on the charge of having horsewhipped Gladys Pixley, a 10-year-old girl who lives in his family. The girl said to be an unusually attractive child, is the daughter of George Pixley of this place, who was publicly horsewhipped here on the streets a few years ago by a Guilford woman.

Lynde was taken into custody by Sheriff Frank L. Wellman on complaint of State's Attorney Harold E. Whitney, to whose attention the alleged horsewhipping incident had been brought. The prisoner offered no resistance when placed under arrest.

At his appearance before Judge Frank D. Stowe in municipal court, Lynde waived examination and was bound over to Windham county court. His bail was fixed at $500. This sum was furnished by his attorneys, C. E. Hughes and Charles S. Chase, and he was released, leaving for his home in Guilford.

Because of the nature of the case it is expected that a large crowd will pack the Windham county courtroom when Lynde's case comes up.
